William VAN BURKLEO , Sr. 50497

- BIRTH: ABT. 1761, Kent Co, De
- DEATH: Dec 1805, St. Charles Co., Mo.

little more than 24 hours while they placed a pacemaker in my left shoulder above my heart. Other than being quite sore for several days I can't say that I notice a great deal of difference. It is knowing that my heart is acting in a better manner what counts. I had a follow-up visit this past Friday and in the preceding week the pacemaker had told my heart to pick up the pace 17% of the time. It is amazing what they can do these days and what they can learn about your body functionings. In another month they will be checking my heart every so often by phone. The pacemaker has a substantial amount of memory and they can read that memory over the phone when I call-in. I can't keep any secrets!

Elaine came up from Kansas City for several days while I was in the hospital and for a couple of days afterward. 185 miles isn't around the corner but on the Interstate it doesn't take very long. Just over 3 hours. It was certainly nice to have her here. The doctor didn't want me to be driving for about 4 or 5 days.

At this point I don't know whether I will get back to Ontario this coming summer or not. In addition to my heart I have some difficulty with my feet which makes it difficult to drive a great deal.... too far or too long. They have a name for it but say there is no cure and little can be done to ease the conditions. Grin and bear it more or less.

A ~~please~~ "hi" to all of you. Thanks for your letter. I hope you will find the enclosures of further interest.

Sincerely,

Dear Jim:

The check I made of my files didn't reveal anything to me which seems to provide any answers which might help you find some information you are looking for. I question whether the enclosed listings will help with the specifics you mentioned but something else may catch your eye. If you see something which interests you I'll be pleased to provide what further information I may have in my files regarding any individual or their connections as best my files reveal.

Bear in mind there could be other people/names in my files who have had some association with OH but whose name(s) do not show here. When recording data I often don't have a state (name) associated with the data. These listings are selected based upon:

Any NAME Group where Surname = (1) Oiler, and (2) Oyler, and Any ADDRESS Group where State = OH, plus spouses

When I was looking on the internet the other day I also saw some data regarding the Carrigan surname. The information enclosed wont do you a great deal of good by and of itself but if a name intrigues you I should be able to go back in and get further information concerning that name. That is I should be able to download a file off the internet and then view (or print out) the data it contains. Some such files can be very big but usually a portion can be selected.

As I suspect you are well aware the KEY relative to persons I know to be part of your family line have a Key which beginnings with "OS2". If you spot other persons who you recognize as being part of your family line (including aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, etc) then I haven't yet put 2 and 2 together. I feel sure there are more than a few such names in these lists. If you spot any I'd be pleased if you would point them out to me and let me know how they connect. I've enclosed a listing which shows your OS2 family line as I best know it today.

Sincerely,

James Michael Johnson

Dear Bill:

It is always a special day when I receive a letter from you. How nice!

My life is as full as ever, if not more so. There always seems to be somethings to do. The more I do the more there seems to be to do. But then I wouldn't want it any other way. I never have enough time to do all the things I would like and the list of things I would like to do is long.

As you have come to know genealogy is one of my deep interests. I suspect there is no end to the job, activity. I really don't consider it a "job" in the conventional sense of what a "job" is considered to be. The Iler crest you enclosed is similar, perhaps the same, as I have seem before. In fact over the years I have seen several different crests. Much like the question mark you subscribed to the bottom of the page on which it was printed I often wonder "which is what" and "what is which". How can there be so many, even if it is only 3 or 4?

Your mention of you dad's wartime awards rings a small bell in the back of my head but I'm afraid I have little or nothing to add to the matter.

I don't recall your previous mention or your bypass surgery. But along those same general lines I have joined those in the world with heart ailments and have had a pacemaker implanted within the past two weeks. I can't say I feel much if any different than I did previously but hopefully it is doing what it is supposed to do. When I visited the doctor's office last Friday they said it was kicking-in 17% of the time. My barber also has a pacemaker and he said his is at the 100% level. I'm no authority on the subject but the 17% level sounds relatively good to me.

Bob seems to keep going strong..... may be not as strong as in years gone bye but like myself he is always busy doing something. We both hope that is doing something productive. He is still quite active in his music world and all the practice sessions which lead up to it. From late summer to Christmas time he travels to Chicago every week and for the last three or four weeks remains in Chicago.

Last summer when I was in the Belleville area I stayed over night with Ian and Marjory but heard nothing of her ideas about Ruth's accident. I have never had any notion that it was anything more than a pure accident. In fact Grace and I had an unsettling experience once when we visited Ruth. She became "ill" because she hadn't taken her proper medication. To Grace and I, who were inexperienced in such matters, it was hard to recognize her condition at the time as an illness. Certainly after receiving needed treatment she was back to normal in a very short time, about 15 minutes. In that case Ruthie, her daughter, arrived and got things under control forthwith.

Your mention of your grandmother Jessie Grant raises a question. As a surname Grant is quite common. However I have little or no knowledge or of your grandmother's background, other than her father's name was George. I believe she and her family came from the Windsor area (Essex Co). Do you happen to have any information re her and her family? Do you know her mother's family surname (your great grandmother)? There were also Grant's in Belleville with whom our family were friends, Helen Fraleck had a special friend named Jessie Grant, but I don't believe there was any direct connection between the two Grant families.

Say hi to Pat. Hope your life in Vernon is going well. My best to you both.

Hi!

I'm searching for anyone who's Eilers(or Ailer/Aylers) came to Wisconsin, or that area, from Rheinland-Pfalz, Germany.
My Eiler family lived in the teeny town of Frommersbach, which is really part of the town of Zerf, which is near Saarburg and Trier. 28 566
My Great-grandmother, Magdalena (b.1838) her half-brother, Peter (b.1827) and possibly several others came to America in 1855.
Both went to Cross Plains, WI (near Madison) and Magdalena ended up in Dimock, South Dakota (near Mitchell).

If any of all this seems familiar, please give me a shout!

CLARISA JONES 20355

Father: THOMAS JONES 20281
Mother: MARTHA DENMARK 20282

Family 1: JOHN W. GIBSON 20356

- MARRIAGE: 29 Jan 1818

1. MICHAEL GIBSON
2. OWEN GIBSON
3. MATILDA GIBSON

The listing below and continuing on the next page represents all the records in my files as of a recent date for which an address of "Lousiville, KY" is recorded. The "event" which is associated with each of the addresses is shown in the last column and the date is when this "event" occurred as shown by my records.

The beginning letter of the REF (Key) indicates the family (as best is known) to which each each person belongs. A key ending in an asterick (*) indicates this person is the spouse of the family member whose number it follows. If the key ends in "<" this indicates the person is an ancestor of the person whose number it follows. Each digit in the number, excluding the "*" and "<" but including the initial letter, indicates a generation. For instances the key C123456789 would indicate this person is a tenth generation descendant of the oldest known progenitor in this family. In this illustration the progenitor would be Conrad the immigrant.

The listing does not neceassarily include every person who resided in Lousiville at some time but only the persons who had such an address shown (in my files). Many additional people probably resided in Louisville at some time but the fact is not known, or at least has not been recorded, in my files as of this time.

Early Tennessee Wills and Administrations with you on a daily basis. We fly your family and friends. Over the years, we've established a working relationship based on mutual trust and respect. Don't let a corporate management team ruin OUR airline.

Hopefully, you now understand why we must win this fight.

The above is from the AA pilots.

Rob Hudson known as rhudson@why.net, wrote:

As concerned as they are by their own fears of trying to somehow squeak by on $120,000 a year, I really doubt that the AA pilots walking through the airport are too terribly torn up by the plight of their fellow employees. They certainly don't seem broken up at the thousands of travelers they are letting down. We're all accustomed to watching big corporations like American act like weasels; what a pity to see the pilots sinking into that swamp of greed as well. To justify their huge salaries by comparing themselves to physicians and attorneys is both inaccurate and insulting. Doctors and lawyers don't just let people die on the operating table or let their clients rot in prison while they haggle for a bigger piece of the pie.

AP Mechanic known as aaman@apasucks.com, wrote:

The pilots say they want respect! You have to earn respect andthreatening the livilhood of hundreds of thousands of people is not a way to EARN respect. They are jeopardizing the lives of all the personnel who will be affected by the strike! Divoreces, loss of homes, famlies torn apart, suicides will be a result of the pilots strike! Do pilots earn respect, hex no, not by going on strike! They may some respect while on duty flying, but other than that, no way!!

Jim H. DeLong known as delong@nmex.com, wrote:

If AMR suceeds in forcing a dilution of pilot skills by transfer/co-use between american airlines and american west the overall safety of the system will detoriat badly. In favor of A.A. pilots

Barbara Bone known as bbone@arlington.net, wrote:

Well if we were to reverse the situation and let the pilots run the company and management run the union, how long do you think it would take before American Airlines was bankrupt? The pilots say this is not about money and I have not heard of any pilots being layed off, so is this just to show management how tough you are? Now why don't you just make the best deal that you can and not cause your fellow employees to be layed off because if this strike ruins this company and this company goes down your fellow employees will not be the only ones without a job. cause our fellow employees to be layed off and take the best we can get without bankrupting the company!

Wills

This topic was originally "Tennessee Connection" listing only the wills from Tennessee. We have changed it to cover any reference to a will pertaining to Gossett/Gosset anywhere. We hope to include will extracts when found or made available to us. Wills being one of the better primary sources for identifying family menbers, we thought it an appropiate subject to include in these pages. We hope you find some useful information among them.

If any of you have the content, preferably the extract, of a Gossett/Gosset will, or where one is located, county, book# etc., we would be glad to enter it on this page.

I BELIEVE THAT CRANDALL WANTS THE STRIKE IN ORDER TO PLACE AA INTO CHAPTER 11 AND THUS AVOID PILOT'S SALARIES. I APPLAUD HIS MOVES, INASMUCH AS I, PERSONNALY, AM NOT CURRENTLY BEING PAID IN EXCESS OF $150,000 FOR THREE DAY'S WORK PER WEEK. THESE PEOPLE ARE IN THE TOP PERCENTAGE OF WAGE EARNERS, AND THERE THERE EXISTS A LARGE POOL OF EXPERIENCED PILOTS VERY WILLING TO WORK AT THE MININUM WAGE, PARTICULARLY FOR AAL, TO TAKE THEIR PLACE. NO EMERGENCY EXISTS AS TO AVAILIBILITY OF PILOTS, AND THE NATION SHOULD NOT BE PANICKED IF THE AA EXECUTIVES ELECT TO AVOID FUTURE UNION PROBLEMS BY TAKING THE LEGAL AVENUES AVAILABLE TO THEM. PILOTS NEED TO WAKE UP AND SMELL THE ROSES. HAPPY VALENTINE !!!

> We live in a country where management and employees have the freedom to negotiate their problems..Professional atheletes have the freedom to market themselves for unbelievable amounts of money and they should be able to in this country. I feel the pilots deserve every penny they make because they are a skilled profession. They carry a huge burden of responsibility every time they take off and land in the number of passengers they carry. The pilots are highly educated and professional people. I truly believe they deserve a raise in salary regardless of what your or my salary is.

Unique features & benefits: A compact, crush-proof emergency survival unit which is airtight, waterproof, floats, and has a special compartment to store basic survival supplies.

The KEEP® is a new design for safety, offering all the features to save lives and enhance a person's security by carrying survival gear into the water. Always ready for an emergency without needing to be inflated, the KEEP is a versatile man over-board rescue unit and abandon-ship device.

The first of its kind to exist, this unit was designed to hold onto in the water like a log, with a safety strap securing you to it, while holding rescue supplies at your finger tips. Made of a linear low density polyethylene, it was constructed to withstand the worst of conditions. With its easy grab handle it can be thrown to anyone who goes overboard and becomes separated from their boat or raft.

The lid has an O-ring to seal out water, and is set below the highest part of the unit to protect it in a fall. Weighing approximately 6 pounds empty, it has the capacity to carry another 7 to 8 pounds of your choice of emergency provisions safely inside. Measuring 7 1/2"x 31" long, it was designed to be used with a life jacket, but in an emergency this unit will "KEEP" a person afloat.

It successfully went through four major tests, by Consolidated Laboratories, an aerospace testing company in the U.S. One of the tests, and most important was a flotation test proving a remarkable safety feature of the unit. A special substance has been placed inside the unit at each end to keep it afloat, even if it becomes awash with water! Tests showed that if the lid came off and it filled with water, (and the recommended supplies inside), it would stay afloat and have 18 pounds of buoyancy. Lid on and with contents, 28 pounds of buoyancy. Empty and no contents with lid on, 34 pounds of buoyancy.

A strobe light can be fitted into the lid for night time rescue and can be seen for miles away. Other pertinent features and details are available upon request.

Target market: Government agencies, any boat that leaves the shore, aircraft that fly over water, or people living in lowland flood areas. Secondary market: Earthquake survival or storage containers.

Inventor is seeking: A licensee to market the product, and introduce the world to a whole new concept in flotation devices.

Toys 'R' Us hires top man at FAO to perk up chain

Analysts applaud choice of Eyler to halt slide in sales, profit

ASSOCIATED PRESS

NEW YORK — Toys 'R' Us Inc., a merchandiser to the masses, picked the top executive from exclusive FAO Schwarz yesterday to try to lead it to a recovery from sagging sales and profit.

John Eyler's appointment as president and chief executive officer of Toys 'R' Us was lauded by analysts because of his extensive background in the toy business. But there was some concern on Wall Street about whether he had the know-how to lead a turnaround of a 1,500-store chain.

Toys 'R' Us shares fell 8.42 percent yesterday, $1.0625, to close at $11.5625 on the New York Stock Exchange.

Eyler, 52, comes on board after a tough year for Toys 'R' Us, with its sales and profit coming under pressure. Once the nation's No. 1-selling toy chain, Toys 'R' Us trails giant discounter Wal-Mart Stores Inc.

Last week, the Paramus, N.J., company warned that it would miss 1999 earnings forecasts and reported that sales at stores open at least a year fell 2 percent during the holiday season, due in part to shortages of some popular toys.

In an attempt to boost its business, Toys 'R' Us has been renovating its U.S. stores, creating a brighter layout that is easier to navigate.

It also has been stepping up its efforts on the Internet to better compete with online rivals Amazon.com Inc. and eToys Inc.

But both areas still need tremendous work.

The company has about three-quarters of its 710 U.S. toy stores left to redesign. It also must drastically improve the delivery and customer service systems of its Web site, Toysrus.com, after many complaints during the holiday season.

"There is a lot ahead of this company to do," said Margaret Whitfield, a toy analyst at the investment firm Tucker Anthony.

"I am anxious to see what Eyler will do to get this company back on track."

Some concern over his appointment stems from the fact that Eyler comes from a toy chain far different than Toys 'R' Us.

While Toys 'R' Us is best-known for its super-size stores stacked high with toys like Barbie dolls and board games, FAO Schwarz fills its stores with expensive toys, such as the $8,500 Mercedes kids cars or limited edition Steiff stuffed bears.

FAO Schwarz does not run sales or discount promotions, and many of its 42 stores have posh addresses, such as on Fifth Avenue in New York and at the high-end Forum Shops mall in Las Vegas.

While the differences in the Toys 'R' Us and FAO Schwarz businesses raised eyebrows, analysts also were quick to point out the successes that Eyler has had since he joined FAO as its chairman and chief executive in 1992.

He is credited with updating the upscale toy chain's image, improving its profitability and boosting its selection of exclusive toy lines. About 70 percent of the toys found in FAO Schwarz are not sold elsewhere, up from 30 percent a few years ago.

"Going to an FAO is always a first-class shopping experience. Parents and kids walk out of there loving the experience they had in the stores," said Jim Silver, publisher of The Toy Book, a toy industry trade magazine. "It would be great if he could do the same at Toys 'R' Us."

Toys 'R' Us has been operating without a permanent chief executive officer since August, when Robert Nakasone resigned abruptly. Since then, Chairman Michael Goldstein has been acting CEO.

Eyler is to take the helm of Toys 'R' Us on Monday. John Barbour will remain CEO of Toysrus.com, reporting to Eyler.

Besides its toy stores in the United States, Toys 'R' Us also operates 454 international toy stores, 205 Kids 'R' Us clothing stores, 130 Babies 'R' Us stores and 45 Imaginarium specialty toy stores.

New chief: John Eyler, 52, was appointed president and chief executive of Toys 'R' Us in the wake of his successes while chairman and CEO at FAO Schwarz, which he joined in 1992. While there, Eyler updated the upscale chain's image, added to its offerings of exclusive toys and improved profitability.
